

The Medical College of Wisconsin is a private institution dedicated to leadership and excellence in patient care, research, education and community service. The College and affiliate hospitals provide adult and pediatric patient care for over 260,000 patients each year, representing more than one million patient visits.

We are a major national research center, the largest research institution in Milwaukee, and the second largest in Wisconsin. As the 14th largest private employer in metro Milwaukee, we provide career opportunities to nurses and allied health practitioners in a variety of clinical specialties, as well as to other professionals in health care management, clinical research and technology.
